JAMES WELDON JOHNSON GOES TO FISK

Nashville, Tenn.—James Weldon Johnson, for fourteen years the secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, has been appointed Professor of Creative Literature at Fisk University. Dr. Thomas Elsa Jones, president of Fisk, has announced this appointment to the recently created Adam K. Spence Chair of Creative Literature.

Fisk's new chair of literature and her new professor are a happy combination of the striving of the old and new of Fisk to uphold the best traditions of a race. Adam K. Spence was the first principal. He acted as dean while the president E. M. Cravath was absent raising money for this venture in education. Adam K. Spence did more than any other person to establish this new school for freed men on the basis of a liberal arts college. His first catalogue offered courses ranging from reading and arithmetic to Greek literature and trigonometry. Few there are so well equipped by experience and native ability as James Weldon Johnson to help Fisk realize the dream of Adam Spence.

Surely no other American is better fitted for this particular made in a Negro university. The story of Mr. Johnson's creative genius is in reality the story of creative effort among Negroes. The publication of his first book foretold the recognition of the creative ability of his race that blossomed forth in the period known fifteen years later as the "Negro Renaissance." When his novel, "The Autobiography of an Ex-Colored Man" was first published in 1912, Negroes were not being encouraged to write and the Negro material was not considered worthy of expression. This book established Mr. Johnson as a writer of no mean ability in a literary world which ignored the Negro both as creator and creation, except in the role of a problem or a clown. The reprint of the book at the height of the popularity of the new "Negro in Art and Literature" reestablished him as a novelist in a new literary world, which was taking seriously Negro artists and their material.

Mr. Johnson's productive ability has spanned and outlived the fad period of Negro Renaissance. He is recognized as a poet and an authority on Negro folk lore and folk music. His anthology of Negro verse, "The Book of American Negro Poetry" contains the best critical analysis of Negro poetry yet written. One of the seven folk sermons included in his "God's Trombones" has been characterized by a well known American editor as the most moving poem in the English language. "Black Manhattan", his history of the Negro in New York City, is the authentic story of the Negro and the American theatre. Mr. Johnson was in the forefront of those, who realizing the beauty of spirituals, set to work to preserve them. Two published collections of the sorrow songs are the result of his efforts. His latest book, "St. Peter Relates an Incident of the Resurrection" is the story in verse of the unknown soldier who turns out to be colored. This volume was published in a limited edition and was included in the "Fifty Books of the Year" exhibition of Graphic Arts as a fine example of typography, printing and bookmaking. James Weldon Johnson as a man is the best example any university could offer as an ideal for

Reception Tendered Dr. and Mrs. Preer

Monday, March 23, the attractive home of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Lantou was the scene of a beautiful reception given in honor of their son and his bride, Dr. and Mrs. Richard P. Preer. The home was artistically decorated with dogwood blossoms and bridal wreath, and was further adorned by the lovely gowns worn by the young ladies in the receiving line which included Misses Pearl Johnson, Dorothy Williams, Lula Williams and Audrey Aarons. Assisting in serving the dainty refreshments were three charming young matrons, Mesdames M. D. Singleton, E. B. Goode and M. Collins. Over one hundred and fifty guests called during the hours from six until ten o'clock.

Hospitax Facilities Increased F. A. M. C. Tallahassee

Tallahassee, Fla., Mar. 21—The efforts of President J. R. E. Lee to bring every department of the Florida A & M college up to the standards required in the respective fields in which the college operates, were rewarded last week by the information that the Board of Control of the state of Florida had approved and voted sufficient funds for the erection of an annex to the college sanitarium that will increase the reception capacity of this institution from 21 to 35 beds, thus bringing the Florida A & M college within the hospital standardization requirements of the state of Florida.

The sanitarium of the college is manned by a competent staff headed by Dr. L. H. B. Foote as director, Dr. W. H. Carter, interne and Misses L. R. Long, R. N. and Annie B. Robinson, R. N. as nurses.

A regular nurse-training course has been offered at this institution for several years and the added bed capacity with other improvements that will necessarily be made with this enlargement, the graduates of this course will receive full state recognition.

Montgomery Exclude Negroes From Democratic Primaries

New York, March 20—The chairman of the city democratic executive committee in Montgomery, Ala. recently published in a newspaper advertisement, the qualifications for voters in Mondays (March 16) democratic primary election, the qualifications prescribing "white electors". The question whether a party committee can thus exclude Negroes from primary voting is being raised by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People in the case of Nixon vs. Condon, arising in Texas which is to go before the U. S. Supreme court. The Supreme court previously in the case of Nixon vs. Herndon, also fought by the N. A. A. C. P. ruled that the state constitution law exclude Negroes from voting in the primaries. The same end is now sought to be accomplished by party committees.

The N. A. A. C. P. has just received from Knollenberg and Cameron, their attorneys in the Texas case, a letter from the clerk of the Federal Circuit court of Appeals in New Orleans, stating that the case was still under submission, although the case was argued in November.

JUNIOR FEDERATION CLUB ORGANIZED

Under the supervision of Mrs. Baynes and Mrs. R. L. Carter, a group of young girls met at the home of Miss Elouise Jordan and organized a M. M. Betts Junior Federation. The following officers were elected: Misses Louisa Davis, president; Gertrude Johnson, vice-president; Elouise Jordan, secretary; Louisa Jackson, assistant secretary; Margaret Washington, financial secretary; Priscilla Thompson, treasurer; Dorothy Wynder, chaplain; Otelia Clemm, critic; and Esma Smith, reporter. All young girls are invited to attend the next meeting which will be held at the home of Miss Gertrude Johnson, 511 North E street, April 14.

GIRLS FORM SOCIAL CLUB—The evening of March 9 at the home of Miss Aniece Wallace, a number of young ladies met and banded themselves into a club. The name chosen is the "Royal Sixteen," and the following were elected officers: Aniece Wallace, president; Dorothy Hobbly, vice-president; Ophelia Gainer, secretary; Lucile Jackson, assistant secretary; Harle Jackson, financial secretary; Verdelle Jackson, treasurer; Leona Dean, business manager; Ollie Mae Carrington, critic; Dorothy Williams, reporter.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Johnson, 15 North Hayne street entertained at dinner Sunday for their friends Miss Annie Belle George and Mrs. Katie McDuffie.

Mrs. Carlotta Sheppard Jackson a visitor for a few days with Mr. and Mrs. J. D. McCaa, West Strong street. Mrs. Jackson formerly lived in Pensacola, but the many friends will have to turn their minds back fourteen years to recall her. Her residence is now in Port Huron, Michigan.

QUIET MARRIAGE THURS. P. M.—When an insurance lady takes an hour or so off from her collecting duties, and a merchant leaves his store in charge of the clerk, and that couple get together in an automobile, and a certain parsonage is headed for, that is a mighty sure sign that a marriage is about to take place—and sure it did. This was Thursday P. M., and a short while there after, Mrs. Elnora Goodson was Mrs. Thomas Travis. The officiating minister was Rev. George O Sumner and the couple invite calls on them at 1110 North E street.

JOHN THE BAPTIST NOTES—Rev. Sumner has a brother minister visiting him from Savannah, Ga. He is Rev. E. O. S. Cleveland, pastor of St. John the Baptist church of that city and is spending a few days in Pensacola with his old schoolmate, for a rest period. Rev. Cleveland has been drafted to preach Sunday morning at John the Baptist church, and Pastor Sumner wishes all who can to hear him. The visitor has decided musical ability and he will perform at the piano at John the Baptist Young People hour, 5:30. Rev. Cleveland was in Pensacola some years ago and preached at Mt. Olive church.

O-G CLUB LUNCH AT LITTLE WONDER

The O-G Club has added many new ideas to their meetings. A new program was presented by B. J. Butler who is serving his second year as president, believing that such ideas would stimulate more interest in members and bring a larger attendance at meetings. The entire club voted in favor of such a plan.

Mr. Reuben Selden and Mr. Everett Stephen won the right to be called the champion whist players of the club in a club tournament. They successfully defended the title Tuesday night when they turned back their hardest rivals T. W. and B. B., score 3 to 2. T. W. and B. B. have been the run up every time. Selden and Stephen have only two more battles to have their names placed on the club cup. Mr. Henry Wellington served the club a delicious luncheon of three courses at Little Wonder cafe. B. J. young people. His early career in the U. S. diplomatic service and his active interest in world affairs make invaluable his viewpoint to student life. His courage and judgment in the direction of the program of the N. A. C. P. for the civil rights of all Negroes are the kind that Fisk wants to develop in her graduates. Mr. Johnson has been awarded the Spingarn medal, and has twice won Harmon awards for his distinguished achievements. He went as a member of the American group to the Pacific conference (Institute of Pacific Relations) which met in Japan in 1929. That same year he was awarded a Julius Rosenwald for creative writing.

DEFUNIAK SPRINGS ITEMS—By Rev. A. J. Williamson
The Ministers and Deacons Union of the Progressive Baptist Association of West Florida, convenes at Nebo Baptist church March 25-29. The Women's department takes place Wednesday night, 25th, conducted by Mrs. E. Mootry. The quarterly conference of St. Joseph station of the A. M. E. church conducted by presiding elder, Rev. J. M. Wise, and was indeed a success. A very helpful local undenomination missionary society has been organized, and is doing quite a generous work among the people. The writer happened to come into a certain home where they were meeting and found them praying, singing and discussing the Scriptures, and collecting from each member, to disburse among helpless persons they had found. The meeting was being conducted by Miss Genie Livingston. Correction—The name referred to in last week's issue as "Delegate" should have read Delegele.
